Reflecting on the Earth as a Sacred Community
Engaging in the Great Work
Fall Workshop

Five Sunday Mornings
Sept. 20, 27, Oct. 4, 11, 18, 2009
10:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

*Finding Our Way
Into a Hopeful Future*

- Immersion in the Great Work
- Becoming an Ecological Citizen
- Exploring a Spirituality of the Earth
- Becoming Integrated into the Community of Life
- Cultivating a Viable Future for our Children
- Creating a True Partnership with the Earth Community

The old familiar ways seem to be falling part. Not only are many of our cultural institutions in crisis, but the fabric of life is being threatened. How can we find our way into a hopeful future?

This workshop will explore how we can make a transition from a period of human devastation of the Earth to a period when humans would celebrate the sacredness of all creation. It will offer an expansive understanding of the human capacity to shape a viable future. Employing the observations and insights of Thomas Berry, we will examine the current ecological and cultural crises as well as consider the values and vision we need for the healing of our world. The goal is to engage in the Great Work of our time: to bring forth an environmentally sustainable, spiritually fulfilling and socially just human presence on the Earth.
